

I am appalled by the lack of democratic sense and the unabashed biased idea that business interests come before the journalistic purpose of checking public positions of government. You are enlisted to assure that these checks and balances are in place and not removed. Your position as a public servant is a patriotic responsibility, do not trample higher ground for short term party affiliation.

I would appreciate if you reconsider your position historically. Show courage for Christ sake.